

NEWSLETTER

Issue 5 | Spring 2025

TRAINING HIGHLIGHT 3-Minutes Thesis Competition

An engaging Three-Minute Thesis (3MT) competition for PhD students took place on January 23rd, offering all MaQTech trainees the opportunity to showcase the skills they developed during the Knowledge Mobilization & Science Communication seminar.

A special thank you to our esteemed judges:

- •Prof. Jennifer Ogilvie, University of Ottawa
- •Prof. André-Marie Tremblay, University of Sherbrooke
 - •Prof. Louis Gaudreau, University of Ottawa

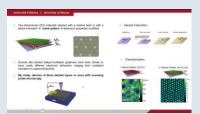

Antoine Labbé
University
Of Ottawa

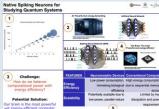

Xueying Li University Of Ottawa

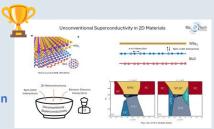

Faith Oyedemi University Of Ottawa

Alexander Friedlan University Of Toronto

ENGAGEMENT

Quantum Days 2025 - February 19th to 21st, 2025 - Toronto

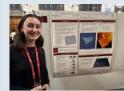

The MaQTech community, such as PDF Melis Aygar, Undergraduate Geneviève Bertin and PhD Antoine Labbé, was well represented and actively engaged in the poster sessions.

Professor Adina Luican-Mayer moderated the panel on training the quantum workforce. MaQTech co-principal investigators contributed to several sessions.

MaQTech students had an excellent opportunity to attend talks by renowned researchers and to present their own work.

KEY DATES – STAY TUNED!

MaQTech Summer School - Virtual: A Full Day of Guest Lectures, Short Talks and an EDI Panel – Late July or Early August 2025

MaQTech Winter School – Jouvence Resort: A Three Days' Event of Lectures, Short Talks, Research, Network and Poster Sessions – Late November or Early December 2025